

CAREFUL AUTOISTS CLAMORING ABOUT BRIGHT LIGHT USE

Officers Must Enforce Ordinance to Give Protection

Complaint has been coming from all sides during the week because of the fact that the police fail to enforce the ordinance against the bright lights within the city limits. The need of such enforcement has been made the more apparent because of the congestion of traffic on the streets leading to the county fair.

City Judge C. H. Kennerly is exceedingly wroth regarding the lack of enforcement. When questioned regarding the subject he said:

"There is a law which makes it compulsory to dim lamps within the city, and by all means that ordinance should be put into effect and carried out to the letter. Out towards the fair grounds there is bound to be some serious accident unless such a course is followed. With the hundreds of cars going back and forth and those lights glaring out their blinding rays the confused driver is certainly up against it. I'd like to see the police get the men who insist in their refusal to use dimmers."

Last evening there was considerable trouble in and about the streets leading to the show grounds. There were no accidents reported, but there were many cars that were thrown off the thoroughfare and found great trouble in getting back. All along the route to the grounds there were narrow escapes between cars and foot passengers—and much of this was caused by glaring headlights.

Judge Kennerly is firm in his assertion that the police should look very closely after those who pay no heed to the law governing the showing of bright lights and should demand the use of dimmers in all sections of the city.

The "Serenade" Is The Big Feature Thursday at Grand

The feature attraction at the Grand for Thursday is "Serenade," an R. A. Walsh production, featuring Miriam Cooper. It is romance of old Spain—the land of dark-eyed señoritas, bold fighting cavaliers—daring deeds and thrilling adventures. It is a picture of tender romantic scenes which are tinted with moments of thrills. The action is laid in the town of Magdalena, a Spanish possession, and depicts in an interesting manner the love affairs of Maria del Carmen, prettiest girl for miles around, and Pacho, the son of the governor.

The arrival in town of Ramon results in complications, duels and misunderstandings which threaten the peace of the town and the love of Pacho for Maria, but affairs are untangled in a novel manner. Miss Cooper, because of her dark beauty, makes a bewitching señorita as she leans over the balcony of her hacienda, listening to the serenade of love and passion. It is a picture of tempestuous love which is thoroughly appealing and charming.

There is also a Movie Chat and a Kinegram.

THREE FOUND GUILTY:

ONE WAS DISCHARGED

In the municipal court this morning Buck Bennett and Brooks Anderson were found guilty of violating the traffic ordinances of the city and were fined in the sum of three dollars each, and H. S. Law was found guilty of disorderly conduct and received a fine of $15. John Gallagher, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged with disorderly conduct, was discharged from custody.

FIRST DAY OF FAIR INDICATES GREAT SUCCESS TO CROWN

The county; there are some splendid bulls and many fine horses; yet the showing was so small that it was disappointing. There were very few cows. One of these was driven from east Palatka, and was entered by Mrs. E. H. Watts, who thinks that "Henrietta" is just about as good a cow as she needs—although she declares that there are other splendid animals in this locality which should have been occupying the stalls. Mrs. Watts is well posted in stock matters, as she is in all that pertains to the great outdoors, and entertains charmingly all who question her regarding the exhibits along any lines.

It is in the poultry department that there is a splendid showing—the long rows of the new patent wire cages showing not an empty. Putnam county abounds in fine poultry, and the display house will have to be doubled in size another year to accommodate the entries. One of the features of this department is the varied display made by Charles Francis, of Interlachen, who was so liberal a giver of prizes of all sorts at the recent state fair in Jacksonville. He believes in encouraging displays of this kind, and to that end kindly brought from his home a choice selection of his prize stock that others might see, and, seeing, might conclude to enter the business of something out of the ordinary in the poultry line.

In addition to these showings from the one yard there was a multiplicity of exhibits filling the house. These were tagged and numbered, and the owner's name, of course, was not disclosed.

The swine pens were the better filled last evening, and it is expected that today the entries will have largely increased.

In the large commercial building every booth is taken and each is very attractively arranged. There is a novelty about every one of them, and the determination of the local business joins to do their share towards making the fair a success is most commendable.

On the left at entering is the booth of the Hygiea Coffee company, where splendid coffee is furnished all comers at all times and in a liberal manner. The attendants, of which there are several, have been eyeing the state, and are taking especial pains to see that all comers to the building are partakers of this excellent brand of coffee.

Next is the booth of the Spencer Electric company, where a very attractive spot has been fitted showing some of the lines of goods carried by this firm. Adjoining is the Raleigh Health service, where the booth is filled with various lines of canned and glassed goods—all ready for the table.

The next booth is occupied by the Toaff-Ramsey company of Palatka. The booth specializes in sewing machines and Pathe players, and whenever there is music lacking for one moment the Pathe commences.

Adjoining is the booth of the Palatka Stationery company, with Fred C. Cochrane in charge of the Edison machines, of which three of the many models carried in stock are being demonstrated. The booth is simply fitted, the several models taking up the larger portion of the space.

Merely to inform the public that the Chevrolet is still on the market. Oliver Brothers, who secured the adjoining space, slid in one of their cars, just like that; and the demonstrator has much to talk about regarding it. Both the car and the man in charge are self-starters.

In the adjoining booth Ryan Brothers have fitted up a handsome dining room in royal furniture; and the entire space is occupied by this rich dining room suite. The table is spread ready for the visitors, and the whole is in charge of George W. Burnham.

R. R. Weeks, "direct from the factory," is in charge of the adjoining booth, where the Maxwell House coffee, "good to the last drop," is being demonstrated, and is served to all comers in an excellent manner. Mr. Weeks has many return calls, all of which he enjoys.

The adjoining booth is occupied by the Palatka Electric Service company, where a generous display of the goods carried by this firm are artistically arranged.

On the opposite side of the hall is located the booth of the Palatka Coca-Cola Bottling works, where a multiplicity of the bottled goods manufactured by the company are placed tier on tier.

Adjoining is the large display of the Merryday Grocery company, where are shown some of the goods handled at wholesale by the company—flour being one of the leading articles. Fine "batches" of most de-

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to freshen up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since.

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.

licious biscuits are being continually turned out by an expert, and these are passed among the many visitors to the building.

The Tilghman Hardware company has a fine display adjoining the Merryday company, and have made the most of the large space that was secured by them when the project was first suggested. Their display is one that has been most attractive and it may be said the biscuits turned out by the Merryday people come from ranges in the Tilghman showing.

The Yelverton Furniture company occupies the next booth, where a model kitchen, all in white enamel, with every convenience to match, has been fitted. While the firm handles furniture of all varieties only this model kitchen is shown.

The Auto Service Supply company, at the adjoining booth, is securing considerable publicity because of the fact that Eddie Bond, who is demonstrating there, is bound to give someone a cord tire before the first of January. Everyone who will register at this booth and receive a numbered ticket. Someone is going to hold a lucky ticket, Eddie says, and then biff, just like that, there's a tire gone out of the stock.
